sheds, swimming pools or space for the caravan and toys. Easy access in and out and lots of room for the kids and pets to play inside the fenced yard.

The home is move in ready and perfectly livable as it is – it really is a sweet character home. Alternatively take advantage of the Next Generation Zoning and develop the land further – dual dwelling, duplexes, townhouses, even holiday letting (STCA). With a bit of planning, you could easily capture the ocean views from here – a great value add.

The current family have held the property for the past 35 years, but circumstances have changed and this one needs to be sold. With a great location, a great block, and heaps of potential this one won't last long.
